Demystifying Islam-Revised Dr.Ali Shehata 2019-09-17 Your Guide to the Most Misunderstood Religion of the 21st Century

Redeeming Power-Diane Langberg 2020-10-20 Power has a God-given role in human relationships and institutions, but it can lead to abuse when used in unhealthy ways. Speaking into current #metoo and #churchtoo conversations, this book shows that the body of Christ desperately needs to understand the forms power takes, how it is abused, and how to respond to abuses of power. Although many Christians want to prevent abuse in their churches and organizations, they lack a deep and clear-eyed understanding of how power actually works. Internationally recognized psychologist Diane Langberg offers a clinical and theological framework for understanding how power operates, the effects of the abuse of power, and how power can be redeemed and restored to its proper God-given place in relationships and institutions. This book not only helps Christian leaders identify and resist abusive systems but also shows how they can use power to protect the vulnerable in their midst.

Lailatul-Qadr, the Night of Power. Allāh's beauty and Light will be visible in that human being. Allāh's qualities and actions will be visible in him-Allāh's qualities and actions will be in his 'ilm, and the rahmah of Allāh will emerge from him. Everything that emerges from him will bring peace to all lives. This day is Lailatul-Qadr. In days long gone by, only one person each year would successfully complete the hajj. The Light would come down once a year upon one person. Similarly, the ray of Light will come down upon the one who realizes this and acts accordingly. If there is at least one person in the dunyā who attains this state, the ray of Light will come down upon him. Just as the rahmah of Allāh would come down once a year to one person during hajj, the ray of Light would come down upon one person in this state. When a human being fulfills the fast correctly, the ray of Light will come down upon him. The Light of Allāh, the rahmah of Allāh, and the wealth of Allāh's mubārakāt-the wealth of grace, the wealth of meaning, the wealth of the soul, the wealth of wisdom, the wealth of 'ilm, and the wealth of Allāh's qualities will come down upon him. This is Lailatul-Qadr, the Night of Power. Allāh's beauty and Light will be visible in that human being. Allāh's qualities and actions will be visible in him-Allāh's qualities and actions will be in his 'ilm, and the rahmah of Allāh will emerge from him. Everything that emerges from him will bring peace to all lives. This day is Lailatul-Qadr. In days long gone by, only one person each year would successfully complete the hajj. The Light would come down once a year upon one person. Similarly, the ray of Light will come down upon the one who realizes this and acts accordingly. If there is at least one person in the dunyā who attains this state, the ray of Light will come down upon him. Just as the rahmah of Allāh would come down once a year to one person during hajj, the ray of Light would come down upon one person in this state. That is what is protecting the dunyā today, a place where there would otherwise be so many more difficulties. Without that, the dunyā would perish. It would burn in the fire. The dunyā would burn in the fire, in the evil qualities of the people. The people would burn. It is said that this ray of Light comes down on one day, but it comes down every day. Because we do not understand, because we do not know, we have made only this month exalted. So at least become aware during this month!

Night of Power-Anar Ali 2019-08-20 A portrait of a Muslim family--from the heady days in Uganda to hard times in a new country, and the tragic accident that forces them to confront the ghosts of the past "Anar Ali's Night of Power is a searing and beautiful novel. With perfect pitch, the story glides between the perspectives of father, mother, and son. It is an honest and utterly engaging meditation about love and loss, tenderness and violence, adaptability and delusion, dislocation and rebirth." --Lawrence Hill, author of The Book of Negroes and The Illegal It's 1998. And Mansoor Visram has lived in Canada for 25 years, ever since dictator Idi Amin expelled South Asians from Uganda. As a refugee with a wife and child, Mansoor has tried his best to recreate the life they once had, but starting over in Canada has been much harder than he expected. He's worked as a used car salesman, as a gas station attendant, and now he runs a small dry cleaner in suburban Calgary. But he's hatching plans for a father and son empire that will bring back the wealth and status the Visrams enjoyed in Uganda. The problem is, his son Ashif does not share his dreams, and he's moved across the country to get away from his father. He's a rising star at a multi-national corporation in Toronto, on the cusp of a life-changing promotion, but he can't seem to forget his girlfriend from long ago. Mansoor's wife, Layla, has spent the past decade running her own home cooking business and trying to hold her family together. But Ashif rarely comes home to visit and Mansoor's pride has almost ruined their marriage. As the fissures that began generations ago--and continents away--reappear, Mansoor, Ashif, and Layla drift further and further apart. On the Night of Power, a night during Ramadan when fates are decided for the next year, a terrible accident occurs. Will the Visrams survive this latest tragedy? Night of Power is a heart-wrenching story of a family in crisis. Gripping and unforgettable, Anar Ali's debut novel vividly illuminates the injustices of displacement and the nuances of identity--of losing a home and coming home again.

Along with her brother Eyad and her African-American friends, Hakim and Hanifa, she bikes the Indianapolis streets exploring the fault-lines between “Muslim” and “American.” When her picture-perfect marriage goes sour, Khadra flees to Syria and learns how to pray again. On returning to America she works in an eastern state — taking care to stay away from Indiana, where the murder of her friend Tayiba's sister by Klan violence years before still haunts her. But when her job sends her to cover a national Islamic conference in Indianapolis, she's back on familiar ground: Attending a concert by her brother's interfaith band The Clash of Civilizations, dodging questions from the “aunties” and “uncles,” and running into the recently divorced Hakim everywhere. Beautifully written and featuring an exuberant cast of characters, The Girl in the Tangerine Scarf charts the spiritual and social landscape of Muslims in middle America, from five daily prayers to the Indy 500 car race.
